COLUMBIA AT THE ACADEMY.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF 1885. *DDRESSES IN GREEK, LATIN AND ENGLISH-MANY DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Academy of Music was filled yesterday morning with fathers who looked proud of their boys, with sisters whose color was high and whose hearts beat quickly, and with mothers who couldn't quite keep back their tears as their sons' names were called to receive scholastic honors. It was a great day for the class of '85 of Columbia—their commencement day. The exercises began with music at 10 o'clock, but long before that me the dress circle was filled with spectators, most of them young women who had not been lucky enough to obtain tickets for the parquet. At 10:30 President Barnard, clad in all the dignity of academic robes and mor-tar-board hat, marched down the middle aisle, followed by the trustees and the faculty all in charge Grand Marshal of the occasion, Freder ick M. Watson. They all took seats on the platform. After them came the graduating classes rom the School of Arts and the School of Mines, who filled the places reserved for them in the front of the house. A brief prayer was offered by the Chaplain of the College, the Rev. Cornelius R. Duffle, S. T. D. Then a great many of the young men who were to be graduated got up and left the house, not caring to listen to the Greek salutary poem of their first-honor man, Nelson Glenn McCrea. Nevertheless, Mr. McCrea's poem was full of elevated sentiments. For about ten minutes he poured forth a series of haxameters so polished that e persons hinted that Professor Drisler must have had a hand in their composition. After a few words of general welcome he turned to the trusiees of the college and expressed the thanks of his class for their able and efficient management of the affairs of the institution. As he approached the president, Dr. Barnard touched his mortar-board and Mr. McCrea bowed low. The esteem and admiration felt by the class of '85 for President Barnard and the whole corps of professors were neatly expressed, and the salutatorian turned once more to the audience and addressed a special welcome to all the young ladies and their mothers. He was loudly applauded at the cud of his poem and received two large baskets of flowers. Then John Albert Ryerson, the second honor man, delivered another poem in Latin heroics this time, upon the permnial theme, " Noster Populus Liberis." He spoke eloquently about the servi liberandiand the vincula rupla, and expressed the hope that the present Administration would adhere strictly to the principles of Civil Service

After these two learned productions had been pro-Notice the audience was treated to a little English. Ysidoro Ygnacio Polledo, of the School of Mines. spoke Ysidoro Ygnacio Polledo, of the School of Mines, spoke upon the "Genesis and Growth of Mining." Thomas Ewing, jr., of the Arts, delivered an excellent address upon "The neglect of liberal studies by Alumni." He proposed that the study of the natural sciences should be substituted for that of the classics, in order that the knowledge imparted to young men in colleges may have some direct and practical bearing upon their music from "The Black Hussar," after which Charles Everett Graff, of the Mines, spoke upon "Technical Education," and Robert Coleman Kemp, of the Arts-delivered a culogy upon "Gaspard de Coligny, Admiral

BROWN UNIVERSITY PROGRAMME.

PROVIDENCE, R.J., June 10.-Following is the Programme for the commencement exercises at Brown University: There will be a "grand Indian powwew" under the auspices of the junior class, at Messer-st. ball grounds on Thursday evening. June 11, which, if the weather is pleasant, promises to be an occasion of the sort of rare fun in which students are supposed to clude addresses by William Chamberlain Burwell, Saxton's River, VL; Horatio Gates Wood, Newport: (to undergraduates) Walter Goodnow Everett, South-ampton, Mass.; and President Robinson. The class tree will be planted at the close of these exercises, and at 5:30 p. m. the College Glee Club will give an open air concert on the chapel steps. In the evening occur the usual promenade concert and the festivities in Sayles Memorial Hall.

President Robinson will preach the baccalaureate sermon at 4 o'clock p. m., June 14, in the First Baptist Meeting House, and in the evening, at the same place, the Rev. Dr. MacArthur, of New-York, will preach the sermon before the Society for Missionary Inquiry.

After the last graduate had received ner ciploma all present were invited to dinner, and in fifteen minutes after all who had partaken of the intellectual feast in the chapel were helping to swell the subsistence account in the dinner-toom. After dinner there was a rush of vehicles and people for the city, abortying of pupils and parents to cars and beats, and by midnight the Vassarians were being whirled north, south, east and west over railroads and rivers to their homes.

BROADSWORD AND RAPIER. CAVALRY DRILL AT WEST POINT-LIEUTENANT REELER'S INNOVATION.

West Point, June 10.-The busy season is WEST POINT, June 10.—The busy season is now well under way. The register of the West Point Hotel is being filled up at the rate of three pages a day, and the man who falled to engage rooms several weeks ahead is miserable. In the morning Senator Hawley, who is a member of the Senate Committee on Ordinance, visited the West Point foundry and inspected the work being done there in the manufacture of heavy guns. Most of the Board of Visitors

Hotel is beine filled up at the rate of three pages a day, and the man who failed to engage rooms several weeks ahead is miserable. In the morning Senator Hawley, who is a member of the Senate Committee on Orthance, visited the West Point foundry and inspected the work being done there in the mannfacture of heavy guns. Most of the Board of Visitors rode to Newburg, where they visited Washington's headquarters, while Judge Kelley, with the ladies of the party, reached the same destination by steamboat.

In the afternoon there was a cavairy drill in companies and battalion under command of Captain Augur, cadets of the first class taking part and also some of the second, who were needed to fill out the ranks. They galioped back and forth, wheeling this way and that amid a tremendous ratting of subres. The Captain shouted his orders at the cloud of dust where the battalion was supposed to be and the bugler translated them into musical larguage. The grand finale was a charge, first by companies and then the whole battalion in line. It was suggestive of Balaislava, a hedge of boxwood surrounding the hotel doing duty for the jaws of death.

In the evening the fourth class showed the public and the Board of Visitors what Lieutenant H. O. Keeler, the new instructor in gymmastics, has been teaching.

the Board of Visitors what Lieutenaut H. O. Keeler, the new instructor in gymnastics, has been teaching them. It differed materially from former exhibitions and was regarded with great disgust by many of the calets who are wedded to ye ancient customs and liked to excite the wonder of the spectators by the old-fashtoned circus performance, turning double somersaults, jumping through hoops, etc. When Licutenant Keeler took charge last winter he introduced a system which h adopted after extended observation of those in use in the armies of Europe. It resembles those employed by Dr. Sargent, of Harvard, with the addition of the regular armies of Europe. It resembles those employed by Dr. Sargent, of Harvard, with the addition of the regular military exercises, and is designed to educate the cadets up to a healthful state of physical development without overstraining the weakest of them, and making a few expert athletes for a show performance. Instead of permitting a few of the more expert to show how near they con!! come to breaking their necks without doing it, as in former years, forty-six men—the largest number that the present gymnasium will accommodate—went through the regular exercises that they have practised every day. Afterward there was fencing and broadsword exercise. The results of the new system as shown in the increase in the average development of the class during the year, are extremely favorable.

The standing of the first class was read out at evening parade. It was as follows, beginning with the highest; Joseph E. Kuhn, Kentucky; William E. Craighill, at large; Michael J. O'Brien, Massachusetts; Cornelis Dew Willeox, Georgin; Hayden S. Cole, Illinois; Arthur F. Curtis, New-Jersey; John C. W. Brooks, Pennsylvania; Charles H. Muir, Michigan; John D. Barrette, Iowa; Charles H. Muir, Michigan; F. Pennsylvania; Austin H. Brawn, Illinois; Alanson L. Parmenter, New-York; Willam A. Holtrook, Wisconsin; Frank De W. Ramsey, New-York; John K. Cree, Pennsylvania; Henry F. McCala, Mississippi; Frank A. Cook, Rhode Isane; William S. Biddle, Jr., Michigan; John Little, Tennessee; Lewis M. Koehler, Iowa; George B. Cartwright, New-York; Robert E. S. Michie, Virginia; Robert L.; Bullard, Alabama; Samuel E. Smile, Jr., Medigan; John Little, Tennessee; Lewis M. Koehler, Iowa; George P. The election of Commissioner Purroy disposes of the story that he is seeking admission into Tammany Hall, and, as he is a strong friend of Mayor Grace, shows that the Mayor is in accord with the County Democ-

in the City of Mexico. Mr. Hardy, who was about twenty-three years old, went to the City of Mexico some three years ago as an employe of a telephone com-pany, but more recently was engaged in a gambling den.

GENERAL LOGAN VISITS GENERAL GRANT. THE EX-PRESIDENT BETTER THAN WAS EXPECTED

-TALKING OVER OLD TIMES. General Logan's visit to this city yesterday was for the sole purpose of calling on his old commander, General Grant. He paid his respects to General Grant in the afternoon and remained two hours. The meeting between thom was cordial and affecting. General Grant congratulated General Logan cordially on his re-election to the Senate, General Logan said to a TRIBUNE reporter in the evening:
"After what I had read and heard about the General

I expected to find him in much worse condition. I don't presume to judge of his condition, but am only speaking of my own impressions. He has some trouble in speaking, and expectorates frequently, but there is nothing offensive in the expectoration. I said to him that I was gratified to find him looking better than I had anticipated, and he replied that he was better than THE ROBUST GIRLS OF VASSAR.

CLOSE OF THE GRADUATING EXERCISES.

A GLANCE AT THE SUBSISTENCE ACCOUNT—STARTLING FIGURES IN CARAMELS.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 10.—There were closing scenes at Vassar to-day, and the corriders and parlors resounded with music. As the exercises were not to commence until 10:30 a. m., the parents of the pupils who were present had time to look about and inspect the institution, and grounds, and see where they were spending their money and what for. The Vassar girls ought to be robust, because they have consumed 94,485 pounds of fresh meat since last June, 2,380 pounds of the following and solution of the since in the specific or the since in the same department of the pupils who were present had time to look about and inspect the institution, and grounds, and see where they were spending their money and what for. THE WORK OF A POISONER.

STRANGE CHARGES AGAINST A WOMAN. SUSPICIONS ATTENDING THE DEATH OF A YOUNG

GIRL IN BALTIMORE. BALTIMORE, June 10 .- Anna Wills, a comely girl of nineteen, who was recently governess in the family of Mr. Emory in North Gillmer-st., was taken alarmingly ill in the boarding-house of Mrs. Clarkson at No. 61 North Liberty-st. on Wednesday. She grew worse and Dr. Stewart was called in and prescribed for her. She said that she was suffering from pain in the stomach and that It would soon pass away. On Wednesday afternoon Elizabeth Bean, who had praviously visited the house, went to call on Miss Wills. She sat in the sick girl's room until 8 p. m. Miss Wills in the meantime had grown much better. About two hours after Miss Bean left the girl ran from her bed-room and leaning over the balustrade shricked, " Mrs. Clarkson, I am dying. Come, quick!" she was helped back to her room and Dr. Stewart was again summoned. He gave her a prescription and again expressed the opinion that she would soon be all right. About six hours later the girl died in great agony. On Friday a coroner's inquest decided that she died from natural causes. Investigations made by the reporters of The Morning Herald led to the belief that the young woman died from poison. The stomach of the deceased has been submitted to Professor Wilson, the analytical chemist, who on Tuesday evening made a report showing that he had discovered evidence of poison. This report has been laid before State's Attorney Charles G. Kerr, and there seems to be little doubt that a number of arrests will be made to and the result of the coroner's inquest was published on Saturday an attache of The Morning Herald remembered that Miss Bean's name had figured in various court of the city as a defendant in suits instituted to set aside deeds of trust in her favor made by persons without living relatives. As in these old cases, Miss Bean appeared at the Clarkson boarding house shortly after the death of Annie Wills, and claimed her property. As an thority for this claim she produced the following note:

DEAR Mas, Hoopes.—I write to tell you that you will never see me again alive. Forgive me for all that I have done and do not say anything to anyholy about me, So that I am decently buried. Farewell, I will meet you in heaven.

ANNA WIL! Miss Bean then stated that she had another note in her possession, in which the dead girl had given her everything. She thereupon took possession of Anna Wills's trunk and other property and moved them to No. 93 North Paca-st, where she was stopping. Here the police seized it on Friday. The trank was then half empty, although witnesses have been secured who know that Anna Wills had a liberal supply of handsome underticating and a bine cashinere and a red cashinere dress with several hats and bonnets for summer and winter wear. A bank book which the dead girl displayed to a competent witness on the preover the trunk to the police.

When these facts were compared with Miss Bean's con-

SMALL NUMBER OF THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS-FI-NANCIAL AID FOR THE SCHOOLS,

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] SYRACUSE, June 10 .- In the Reformed Church Synod to-day reports were made on the condition of the theological institutions at New-Branswick, N. J., and of Hope College at Holland, Mich. The total number of young menin training at both schools was given as thirtyone. The committee lamented the scarcity of theological students. It also called upon pasters to do their parents to conscerate their sons to the sacred calling. A stormy delate was called forth by a resolution in the stormy debate was called forth by a resolution in the report recommending the adoption of measures for the support of the Northwestern Academy of Iowa. The Rev. L. Dykstra, of that State, speke in favor of the Institution. The Rev. A. Page Peeke, of Michigan, remarked that Hops College would suffer by the granting of financial aid to the Iowa school. The resolutions as reported were carried. The Symod adopted a resolution offered by Dr. Taylor, directing the clerk of the Board of Education to co-operate with the financial agents for the institutions in Iowa, Michigan and New-Jerrey. At the afternoon session the Symod discussed the report of the Committee on Domestic Missions. The Synod will probably adjourn to-morrow.

DENOUNCING THE DIVORCE LAWS.

READING, Penn., June 10,-Bishop Howe delivered the concluding portion of his address this morning to the Central Pennsylvania Diocesan Convention He strongly condemned the present marriage and divorce laws of this State. He said that there were not sufficien preliminaries to marriage, and this defect led to secret hasty and ill-advised marriages, productive of misery, unhappiness and sin. He thought that every minister should have evidence that pursons were of a proper age before performing the ceremony and favored publishing before performing the ceremony and favored publishing the barns in church for three successive Sundays. "It is time," he said, "that an organized attempt should be made by Christian mea to abrogate these licenticos laws which breed iniquities. The laws of Church and State should be in harmony with the law of God. Have we not, in easy divorces and frequent remarriages, polygamy as bad in essence, though not so openly proclaimed, as that among the Mormons!"

The address received the warm approval of the members. The committee to whom it was referred reported that the demand of the times is the awakening and instructing of the public conscience in regard to the sanctity and inviolability of the home, and that the church cannot refuse to help in such a good work. The matter was referred this afternoon to the Federal Connell, composed of all the Diocesses in Fensylvania, the intention being to memorialize the civil authorities in reference to the matter.

RIGHTS OF WEST SHORE BONDHOLDERS. PROPOSING TO TAKE POSSESSION OF THE PROPERTY

WITHOUT DELAY. A committee recently appointed at an in-formal meeting of bondholders of the New-York, West Shore and Buffalo Railway Company yesterday issued an address in which it is proposed that the bondholders shall take possession of the property covered by the mortgage without further delay. The committee consists of Frederic Taylor, chairman; R. C. Martin, Oliver Harriman, Edwin Einstein, J. N. Hutchinson, Samuel S. Sands, John N. A. Griswold, William D. Morgan, William Lummis, E. N. Tailer, and Henry B. Hammond. The chairman, who is eashler of the Continental National Bank, was formerly president of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern Railroad after its successful re-organization. Of the other members of the committee Mr. Sands represents the Astors, who are large holders of the bonds. The circular letter is as follows:

It is unnecessary to enumerate the plans which have been suggested for reorganization of the West Shore property, or to state the fact that none of them has been accepted for the reason that they have all proposed to conserve the interests of the holders of junior or other conserve the interests of the holders of junior or other securities at a sacrifice—to a greater or less extent—of the interests of the bondholders. Suffice it to say that though recarly a year has clapsed since the appointment of the receivers, no progress has been madeju settlement of the complications surrounding the property. On the contrary, its affairs are in a worse condition to-day than ever, and instead of there being reason to hope for a change for the better, the fact is evident that every day's further delay only acryes still more to weaken the bond-contrary, its affairs are in a worse condition to-day than ever, and instead of there being reasen to hope for a shange for the better, the fact is evident that every day's further delay only serves still more to weaken the bond-holders delay only serves still more to weaken the bond-holders, therefore, to combine and take immediate action to protect their own interests.

To that end the undersigned—themselves bondholders and with no interest in the property, directly or indirectly, except as such—constitute a committee for the purpose of enforcing all the rights of the bondholders under the mortgage and of securing to them ownership of the property which it covers at the carliest possible date. That the efforts of the committee will meet with vigorous opposition is evidenced by the oft-repeated threats on the part of those whose representations induced purchase of the bonds that foreclosure of the mortgage can be delayed for many years. But the committee, satisfied that to foreclose the mortgage and to take the preperty is the only way now open to the bondholders, is ready to accept the issue, and to undertake the work, scarcely more in the interest of every investor in the country, to vindelate the fact that a mortgage upon a railway, equally with a mortgage upon real estate, every something as a security and carries with it rights which are incontextable. In pursuance of its labors the committee pledges to the bondholders will be interest it proposes to serve. It is, therefore, hoped that the bondholders, appreciating this fact, will extend to the committee pledges to the bondholders whose interests it proposes to serve. It is, therefore, hoped that the bondholders, appreciating this fact, will extend to the committee before the work whose interests it proposes to serve. It is, therefore, hoped that the bondholders, appreciating this fact, will extend to the committee before the work whose interests it proposes to serve. It is, therefore, hoped that the bondholders, appreciating this fact, will extend to the

tinued the discussion of the proposed new pooling con-tract at Commissioner Fink's office yesterday. Further expected to be present, the agreement will be submitted for final consideration. It provides for the division of York on the east, and Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville and Chicamation the west, and in general principles is founded apon the old contracts. The provisions, however, are more stringent, Assistant Commissioner Pleason hopes to be able to have the contract put in such shape that it can be passed upon by the trunk line managers at their meeting to-morrow. There is some doubt, however, whether all the obstacles, such as the question of penalties for infraction of the agreement as regards a read in the hands of a receiver, can be safely passed. The vital matters of arranging percentages and settling the principle of differential fares will not be taken up until the form of the pooling contract is agreed upon and meeting of the Oregon Rallway and Navigation Company will be held at Portland, Oregon, on Monday, when the proposed lease of the company's lines to the Union Pacific, and Northern Pacific Jointly, will be considered. There is a great probability that the lease will not go through. It is said that the obstacle to be over-come is the laws of Oregon, which do not permit the leasing of railroad tracks

MISCELLANEOUS RAILWAY INTELLIGENCE. PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Ninety-nine delegates repre-senting the Yard-Masters' Mutual Benefit Association of the United States and Canada met here to-day. Nearly every State and Territory in the Union and every promievery state and retrievy in the timos and every promi-ment railway of the country were represented. The year has been a fruitful one for the organization, nine new branches having been added in various parts of the coun-try, resulting in an increase of 470 in the membership. The association now has 1,340 members.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10 (Special) .- It is stated on good thority that ofteen votes have been obtained in Select cuncil in favor of allowing the Baltimore and Ohlo Baltrad to enter the city. This is one less than a ma-ority in the common branch. TRENTON, June 10 (Special).—William V. McCracken PHILADELPHIA, June 10 (Special).-In consequence of the refusal of the authorities at ¡Washington to lend Captain Cunningham a cannon, with which it was proposed to fire a saiute of 103 guns in honor of General Logan's re-election to the United States Senate, Orderly-Sergeant John H. Hallick, of the Keystone Bat-tery of this city, has, through Mayor Smith, tendered a twelve-pound howitzer to the Washington Battery for the purpose.

AMERICAN SHIPPING AGAIN. The Board of Trade and Transportation discussed the revival of American shipping yesterday, and cussed the revival of American Shipping yesterday, and unanimously adopted a resolution, introduced by A. B. Miller, approving the proposition in the memorial of the Maritime Association that "thirty cents per ton be granted by Government for every 1,000 miles sailed by vessels, sail or steam, built and owned in the United States, and engaged in foreign commerce, for ten years, after which the payment to be reduced ten per cent annually," as a well-devised method of reviving the decaying and almost lost shipping interest of the country. The Board recommended the early adoption of the method by Congress, and adjourned to the second Wednesday in October.

VALEDICTORY AND SALUTATORY AT YALE.

From The Hartford Courant.

The New-Haven Union makes the astounding statement that the authorates of Yale College intend to aboilsh the valedictory and salutatory orations and the positions of honor now awarded to the highest two students in the class. The reason it gives is that, now optionals have come in, a clever fellow by choosing easy studies and high-marking instructors can figure himself out ahead of a botter schelar. We take the liberty to disbelleve entirely The Union's remarkable report. Yale management is proverbially conservative. The position of valedictorian is too highly honored and too sacred with the traditions of its many years to be set aside in any such fashion. The abolition of the Latis salutatory is another matter. The whole body of the alumni were brought up under the benign influence of the English pronunciation of Latin. Very recently the authorities have decread that Latir shall be now pronounced by the Continental process. This renders the asilutatory practically inoperative so far as the alumni are concerned, and restricts the appreciation of it to a limited circle of listeners. We can see why the Latin oration should go, but that the honors of first and second place in the class should be abolished is incredible.

OBITUARY.

G. F. SECCHI DE CASALL G. F. Secchi de Casali, age sixty-six, editor and proprietor of L'Eco d' Italia, died from pneumonia at Elizabeth, N. J., soon after midnight yesterday, after being confined to his home nearly four months. He was being conflued to his home nearly four months. He was born in Piacenza, and at the age of seventeen conspired with other students against the Jesuitical Government and was compelled to leave Italy. He travelled through Egypt, Syria, Greece, Turkey and Algerta until, in 1843, his political offences were pardoned and he returned to his native home. But the political atmosphere was not to his liking there and he went to Switzerland, fluishing his education at Geneva. His companion there was Merle d'Aubigne, the celebrated historian of the Reformation. Later Casali was made a Professor of Italian and Latin, but he soon gave up his professor of Italian and Latin, but he soon gave up his professor of Italian and Latin, but he soon gave up his professor of Italian and Latin, of Philadelphia, president of the United States Sanitary Commission, and he concluded to come to this country. He lived in this city and wrote several articles on Roman States and their Governments. In 1847, and for many years after, he was the correspondent for The Whig Immerican Review, Democratic Review, Hunfa Merchants Magazine, and various Sanday papers.

One of his best articles published in The Whig American Review was, at the request of many members of Congress, republished in pamphlet form. In 1848 he evtablished L'Eco d'Italia, the first Italian newspaper published in America. In 1859, when war was threatened between Italy and Austria, a large number of Italians volunteered their services through him. Count Cavour returned his thanks and requested them to assist the cause by other means. Secchi va paper did much to influence public opinion in favor of Italy. He also organized a Nátional Committee and raised $20,000 for the assistance of wounded soldiers and destitute families. For his patriotic services Secchi was made an officer of the Order of St. Mauritius and Lazarus. He also were badges of the Medyi Order of Turkey and the Order of Bolivar. He was one of the International Jurymen and vice-president of the fourth group of Agricultury

THE REV. A. C. HOEHNING.
